

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1895.

NO. 19

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—Several of our citizens are spending his week down the river fishing.

—The time for our schools to close will soon be here. Both of them close the last of this month.

—Our farmers are getting about their planting corn. They have had beautiful weather for the work.

—Circuit court begins the 13th and it is thought that the criminal business will take up the entire two weeks of this term.

—The Baptist church has purchased the vacant lot adjoining the church and expect to enlarge the building as soon as they feel able to do so. The plans are being drawn for the addition.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Denham spent Sunday with their son, Sam, who is in school at Gethsemane. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Freeman and daughter, Miss Nellie, have gone to Martinsville, Ind., for Miss Nellie's health. Mr. J. C. Mahan will soon have his new home completed.

—The coal miners and operators are holding a meeting at Jellico this week to settle on prices and conditions of labor for the coming year. We hope they will be able to settle without a strike this time, as a strike would be exceedingly hard on the laborers just at present, when times have been so dull.

—Judge H. C. Harman, county attorney, was in Jellico last Wednesday. Mr. Henry Scalf, of Knox county, gave us a call Tuesday. Dr. C. A. Cox and Mr. E. A. Chilton, men of the grip, gave our merchants a call this week. Miss Hattie Jones spent a few days in Louisville this week. Mr. A. J. Parker, who has been attending the law school at Louisville, is at home with his sheepskin.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—There is a fine prospect for fruit in this vicinity.

—Rev. M. A. Middleton preached at Grove Sunday.

—Sunday school will be organized at Turkey Knob school-house, Sunday at 2 o'clock.

—J. C. Coulter is working a large force of men peeling tan bark on Chestnut Level in this county.

—The band went up and played for Uncle Johnny Coulter Saturday night and got a good supper.

—The Liberty correspondent, says "If the State should unfortunately be lost to the democrats, &c." Well it would be an unfortunate affair sure enough. It would be a real calamity to say the least of it. Ugh! wouldn't it be awful?"

—The Casey republicans instructed for Bradley. Now he ought to come down and explain why he ran off and refused to speak at the log cabin picnic at Liberty some years ago. Some say he got mad because, such small fry as G. M. Davis, John Belden and others were put on the program before him.

—George Durban has announced himself a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the action of the republican party. He is a common school teacher not above the average, but will compare favorably with our representative in the upper house of the General Assembly, both in ability and personal beauty. His chances for the nomination are about one in a thousand.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—Mary, the little daughter of Jacob Bill, the Swiss butcher, died of convulsions, May 1st.

—Rev. Kendrick, Danville, is expected to hold a protracted meeting at the Christian Church, beginning May 6th.

—Kate, the bright little daughter of Dr. Green, East Bernstadt, is visiting Beulah and Bertie Thompson. Rev. B. Ragan is in town shaking hands with his friends.

—Present indications are that there will be the largest crop of apples ever known in this section of the country. The trees are fairly loaded with blooms. The peaches are all entirely killed. There will probably not be a peach in the county.

—A large number of our citizens went to Barbourville Tuesday, expecting to hear Col. Breckinridge speak in the Fields-Adkins case, but they returned sadly disappointed as the case had to be suspended a few days on account of one of the jurymen being sick.

—Miss Lou McKee returned from Williamsburg last week, where she had been for some time. Beulah Thompson will entertain a number of her little friends to an ice-cream supper this p. m., it being her 7th birthday. Mrs. R. M. Jackson entertained the Shakespeare Club last Monday evening. After the reading Mrs. Jackson invited the guests to wash their hands, after which they were taken to the dining room where all enjoyed themselves for a couple of hours "pulling candy."

—It seems that Fate has spread its darkest wings over the Executive Mansion, and the shadows fall thick and fast. Only a few short months ago, the governor was bowed with grief caused by the death of a lovely daughter whom he idolized. On the 13th of April his son, Arch Brown, was divorced from his wife, and now this same son has met an awful and tragic death. The governor is irreconcilable. His friends here sympathize with him in his bereavements and deep trouble.

—The grand jury which was called to investigate the mine explosion near Butte, Mont., last January, by which 58 men were killed, reports that the blame can not be attached to any individual.

—Corporal Henry, of the Eighth infantry, stationed at Fort Russell, Cheyenne, committed suicide with his rifle because his comrades likened him to Oscar Wilde.

—In England the foot-ball season has just closed. There were 20 deaths and over 150 arms, legs and collar-bones broken, besides hundreds of minor casualties.

—The population of the city of New York is shown to be 1,846,966.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Mr. Joe Severance, Sr., will preach at Goshen next Sunday at 11 a. m.

—Prof. L. D. Noel, of Danville, will preach at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and night.

—Ed. J. S. Sweeney's meeting at the Broadway Christian church, Lexington, drew 30 souls into the fold.

—The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at the Presbyterian church next Sunday afternoon at 3:30. A full attendance is desired.

—Rev. Charles P. Strong, an Episcopalian minister of Savannah, Ga., challenges his Bishop to discipline him for repudiating the doctrine of the physical resurrection of Christ.

—In proportion to their numbers the Cumberland Presbyterian church shows a greater gain of members last year than any. It is the smallest, however, of the leading denominations.

—Elder R. A. Broadhurst, who was principal of the Orphan School at Midway some years ago, is critically ill at Louisville. He lived in Stanford at one time and taught school.

—The regular services of the Christian church, Sunday school included, will be held at Walton's Opera House Sunday morning next, owing to the fact that the church is undergoing repairs.

—That was a great meeting at the Louisville East Baptist Church. There were 72 additions to the church, mostly by baptism. The church is thoroughly alive, up with its finances, and Pastor Christian is happy.—Ky. Baptist.

—Eight young men were graduated from the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary Tuesday and had conferred upon them the degree of Bachelor of Divinity, an occasion which marked the close of the second term of the institution.

—The Advocate says the debt on the new Methodist church of $4,500 was subscribed on the building association plan.

—The officers of the church subscribed for enough shares of stock to pay the debt at maturity, and the members will pay, according to their means, from one to 100 cents a week on the stock.

—Rev. A. V. Sizemore has returned from Clinton, Tenn., where he assisted the pastor, Rev. E. B. Booth, in a protracted meeting. There were 50 conversions, 42 of whom were added to the Baptist church at that place. Of the number only two were under 20, while there were six over 60 years of age. Great good was accomplished in many ways.

—The Baptist church at Harrodsburg has declared against its members dealing in spirituous liquors, and it was decided that full fellowship should not be granted to members engaged in the traffic. One year is allowed those members already engaged in the whisky business to find other means of making a living. The whisky traffic and church membership do not comport, that's a fact.

—The population of the city of New York is shown to be 1,846,966.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—Many of our citizens are beautifying their houses by giving them a fresh coat of paint.

—Elder George Gowan will fill his pulpit at the Christian church on Sunday morning.

—License was granted Tuesday to Enoch Warren, of Kirksville, to marry Miss Nora McKinney, of this place.

—The wedding we prophesied took place, but not at the place mentioned, much to the disappointment of some who expected to witness it.

—The Epworth League was organized last Sunday afternoon with about 20 members. Since that time six or eight more have been added to the list.

—Messrs. B. H. Hudson and T. B. Walker, of this place, sold this week 400 acres of land at $50 to Mr. David Thompson, of this county. Possession to be given Jan. 1st, 1896.

—Garrard College Commencement will be held June 5th and on June 4th, there will be a contest of eight or nine contestants, representing the schools of the Central Kentucky towns.

—The Southern District Methodist Conference meets in this place, May 14, 15 and 16. As many as 100 delegates are expected. There will be preachers and delegates from 20 pastoral charges.

—To-day, Friday, Mrs. Robert L. Elkin entertains the Young Married Women's Literary Society at her home two from Lancaster on the Stanford pike. An interesting program has been arranged for the occasion.

—The regular services of the Christian church, Sunday school included, will be held at Walton's Opera House Sunday morning next, owing to the fact that the church is undergoing repairs.

—That was a great meeting at the Louisville East Baptist Church. There were 72 additions to the church, mostly by baptism.

—The church is thoroughly alive, up with its finances, and Pastor Christian is happy.—Ky. Baptist.

—Several of our citizens have had pavements of asphalt laid, and they are certainly nice and substantial, and if our Public Square should be covered with the same, we would have reason to be proud of it.

—Miss Maud Miller, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller, of this place, suffered a painful accident Monday afternoon. In some manner she fell upon a fence in the yard at her home with such force as to knock out one of her front teeth.

—Quite a number of our merry, bright-faced lads are seen wending their way to the ponds and river banks with their fishing tackle in hand to angle for awhile with the finny tribe. For that matter many of older growth enjoy and engage in the sport too.

—The holiness meetings are every Monday evening at the Presbyterian church. The subject they discussed at the last meeting was temperance. The theme under consideration for the next time will be the "Love of Christ." The sanctified ones read an appropriate Scriptural verse at these meetings bearing upon the subject.

—Married on Tuesday, April 30th, at Waxahacha, Texas, Ben Thomas Bush, a former Lancaster boy, and the oldest son of Dr. and Mrs. W. N. Bush, of this place, to Miss Laura Wise. The marriage occurred at the residence of the bride's parents in Waxahacha. The happy couple left at once for Campbell, Texas, on a short bridal tour. "Tom Bush," as he is so familiarly known here at his old home, has been in the evangelistic field for some years and is untiring in his efforts and unremitting in his zeal to serve his Master. Reports come to us that the bride in question is very handsome and of a most excellent family. "May life be to them a gift of pure blessing, no shadows, their pathway ever enhancing."

—The Baptist church at Harrodsburg has declared against its members dealing in spirituous liquors, and it was decided that full fellowship should not be granted to members engaged in the traffic. One year is allowed those members already engaged in the whisky business to find other means of making a living. The whisky traffic and church membership do not comport, that's a fact.

—Rev. A. V. Sizemore has returned from Clinton, Tenn., where he assisted the pastor, Rev. E. B. Booth, in a protracted meeting. There were 50 conversions, 42 of whom were added to the Baptist church at that place. Of the number only two were under 20, while there were six over 60 years of age. The theme under consideration for the next time will be the "Love of Christ." The sanctified ones read an appropriate Scriptural verse at these meetings bearing upon the subject.

—Peter Beard, a juror in the Fields-Adkins murder trial at Barbourville, is critically ill with heart disease, and this will result in a delay in concluding the argument.

—James H. Swango announces his candidacy for representative from the district composed of Wolfe and Morgan counties. He will graduate from the law department of Centre College, at Danville, in a few days.

—Capt. J. H. Myers, who for a number of years has been a conductor on the Maysville train, has given up his position, and will probably be made the local agent for the road at Maysville.—Paris Kentuckian. Capt. Myers had the K. C. run for a long time.

—Adam Price, charged with selling whisky illegally, escaped the sheriffs at Needmore, Madison county, by the old trick of changing his clothes in a room alone. When the sheriffs discovered their loss they fired after the fleeing prisoner, who escaped barefoot and in his night clothes.

—Joe Lewis shot and killed his uncle, Tate Lewis, at Sloan's Valley, Pulaski county. Joe shot at his uncle's dog about a week ago, and on their first meeting the trouble was renewed, when the old man whipped out a knife and began cutting. Joe responded with his revolver, the balls taking effect in the arms and breast.

—Hon. C. M. Clay, in his speech at Owensboro, very sensibly, said: "The governor of a State has nothing to do with the currency of the country or the tariff of the United States. Just at this time, however, there is a crisis in the democratic ranks in Kentucky and it would be an injury to bring this question of currency in to cause further dissatisfaction. By such a discussion in this campaign it is possible to lose 25,000 to 30,000 votes to the democratic party and give to the republican control of the State government."

—When one goes to church and listens to the most affecting and earnest appeal for money to spread the Gospel through the world, and then looking around sees enough material in the ladies' sleeves in that one church to keep a missionary in the field, he's apt to think of Hezekiah 11:18, "Woe to woman that sews pillow slips to her arm holes."

—M. F. NORTH.

—Bucklin's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions. It positively cures piles, no pay required. It is guaranteed to give permanent satisfaction or money refunded. Price 15 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—White & Kreuger are rustling the work about the rock quarry.

—The mountains are very lovely now. The weather seems to favor vegetation this Spring.

—Miss Ray Jones, a beautiful Middlesboro belle, is visiting the family of Mr. J. J. Williams.

—The normal term has begun at the Institute. All the teachers who desire to pass the examination should enter at once.

—J. W. Baker has bought a corner lot of White & Kruger on Main street, near the railroad crossing, and has begun the erection of a two-story brick business house.

—While railroad business seems to be falling off generally elsewhere, it was never better at this place. Four to five cars per day of lumber, staves, lime, posts, &c., are shipped.

—A counterpane woven by the writer's mother 40 years ago was among the effects of Mrs. Margaret Adams at her death a month since, and was bequeathed to your correspondent. It is an invaluable memento and is appreciated beyond expression.

—Elder Joe Ballou, assisted by Rev. J. Hardin, of Danville, conducted the funeral service over the remains of Miss Nettie Cocks last Friday at 10 a. m. The large congregation of mourning friends was deeply affected over the death of one so young and lovely. The pall bearers consisted of 12 young men, schoolmates and friends. Beautiful flowers decked the coffin.

—Mr. S. H. Hay, of Liverpool, was the guest of Mr. J. W. Nesbitt last week. Miss May Miller assisted in the entertainment at Livingston Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Lair, accompanied by Master John, visited friends here recently. Mr. W. A. Davis rejoices over the arrival of another girl at his house and Mr. Jonau McKenzie over a son. Mr. Jas. Thompson and sister, Miss Wade, of Garrard, visited relatives here this week. Mrs. Helen Brooks, of Paris, is visiting the homefolks. Miss Kate Spradlin, who has been attending the Institute, has returned home. Miss Besse McClure visited friends at Pleasant Valley last week. Miss Florene Brown has been very ill, but is recovering. Dr. W. A. Brown is in from Parksville. Mr. J. R. Cass is working at Sinks while Maurice Brown is at home on account of sickness in the family.

—Mr. S. H. Hay, of Liverpool, was the guest of Mr. J. W

EVERY FRIDAY.

THE most sensational tragedy that has occurred in Kentucky for many a day was enacted at a colored assignation house in Louisville Tuesday afternoon, when Fulton Gordon shot to death Archibald D. Brown, son of Gov. Brown, and his own wife whom he had shadowed and caught in flagrant delictu. He broke into the room and commenced to shoot at Brown, who returned the fire as soon as he could, but his wounds, four in number, soon weakened him and he fell dead at the feet of the wronged husband. The false wife attempted to flee, but Gordon shot at her just as she reached the bottom of the steps and she too fell dead. Gordon was immediately arrested and placed in jail. Brown, who was his father's private secretary, has always been more or less dissipated, and since his marriage six years ago, he has gone from bad to worse till his wife had to secure a divorce from him, the decree having been granted less than two weeks ago. Mrs. Gordon was highly connected, being a grand-daughter of Chief Justice Wheat, and the daughter of Mrs. Bush, who was State librarian. She was an exceedingly handsome woman, and to her beauty was indeed a fatal gift. She was fond of admiration and delighted in the society of fast men. Her elopement and marriage to Gordon was a great surprise as he was a poor hotel clerk. For awhile they lived happily together, but it wasn't her nature to be true to one man and many scandals were connected with her name. They finally came to the ears of Gordon and they separated, he going to Chicago to clerk in the Palmer House. About a year ago they were reconciled, and since then they have lived in the pretty Louisville suburb, Kenwood. It wasn't long, however, before the woman began her conquests again, but Gordon seemed ignorant of her doings until recently, when his eyes were opened and the result of his investigations followed in the horrible double tragedy. The governor is said to be completely prostrated over the blow and much sympathy is felt for him. To be consistent, however, he will have to pardon Gordon, if convicted, for he put himself on record as a believer in the unwritten law, in pardoning Woods, who killed Mayor Higgins at Danville, for an attempted crime upon the former's sister.

THE W. C. T. U.'s got a severe snub at Savannah, Ga., where they held their State convention. They wanted to discuss female suffrage, but the minister of the church in which the sessions were held emphatically protested and the subject wasn't broached. The women of the city completely ignored the convention, not over three attending at any time. This was regarded as a silent protest against female suffrage, and it was declared that the union in Georgia would never incorporate that feature in its work. Southern women do not desire to usurp the masculine prerogative and are content with their condition, that of presiding over homes and commanding and receiving the homage of the lords of creation. It is only those women who are dissatisfied because they were not created men, who are trying to do all in their power to show the Creator that he made a mistake.

THE State board of equalization did its best to help Gov. Brown out of the hole, by increasing the assessment wherever possible. The governor said there was no necessity of increasing the tax rate, even after Auditor Norman had made his estimates to show that there would be a deficit unless the rate was increased. It is just like the auditor said it would be to help the governor out as much as possible, his henchmen of the equalization board have increased the assessment of the entire property of the State $14,305,175, above the valuation placed upon it by the assessors. In many cases, in the case of Lincoln county for instance, the board seemed to have transcended its functions which simply provide for the equalization of assessments and went in solely to increase the revenue, authority to do which is only vested in the Legislature.

SHOULD free and unlimited coinage of silver prevail, there is a big chance for the making of millions. Ten thousand ounces of silver can be bought now for $6,700 and it would coin $12,925, leaving a neat profit of $6,225. The speculator and the mine owners will have a bonanza under free coinage laws and the desire for profit originated the wild scheme, which has taken so rapidly with unthinking people.

ITALIAN immigration has fallen off 10,825 in the last ten months, compared with last year. This is good news. Dagoes, as a general thing, are a very undesirable addition to our population, in fact but little better than the Heathen Chinese.

ESCHSCHOLTZIA is the name of the State flower selected in California. It would smell a great deal sweeter, if called by a less unpronounceable name.

It is useless to moralize over the Louisville tragedy. It is such an awful exemplification of the way of transgressors that one is appalled in contemplation of it. Pity 'tis that the whole affair can not be cast into oblivion, but since that is impossible, we command these fitting words from the Louisville Times: The hapless woman in the case already sleeps beneath the silent sod in Cave Hill; tomorrow one of the hapless men will be consigned to the sheltering arms of his mother earth. To the most wretched survivor of this most wretched tragedy in the drama of life in a Commonwealth where every prospect pleases and only some men and women are vile, let there be given, without further rack of nerves or torture of an existence infinitely worse than annihilation or oblivion, the boon of a physical liberty not worth the taking. And into the wounds of those to whom the dead were and ever shall be not less dear in death than they were in life, let the heart of every Kentuckian at least pour its oil of human sympathy, and every pen and tongue throw over both the dead and the quick the pall of silent charity.

EVERYTHING indicates that better times are coming, if not already come. During April the wages of over 80,000 workmen in iron mills, woolen and cotton factories and other industries have been increased and the prices of most of farm products have advanced. This is against the prophecies of McKinley and the other calamity howlers, who declare that the country will go to the deminimis bows under the Wilson bill, but have patience and shuffle the cards. We are fast emerging from the slough of despond and the democracy "will be happy yet, you bet."

THE Covington Commonwealth publishes a list of the counties in the State with the turnpike mileage of each, which shows that the 80 pauper counties, that is those which draw more from the State treasury for expenses than they pay in, have only 964 miles of pikes, while the other 39, whose revenue largely exceeds their expenses and which goes to help the pauper counties, have over 7,000 miles. Even such roads as the pauper counties have are reported bad, not kept up and road law not enforced. Good roads and solvency as well as civilization seem to go hand in hand.

THE momentous and all absorbing question has been settled in the country from Cape Cod to Kalamazoo draws a long breath of relief. Charley Bronston has, after swearing he'd ne'er consent, consented to become a candidate for State Senator. Now let the newspaper reporters who have daily told of the gentleman's doubts and fears cease from troubling and let the weary take a rest.

HON. C. H. BLAKY, who died at Auburn, was noted among other things for being the author of the remark "Don't bite off more than you can chaw," used in discussion with a political opponent. The Louisville Times, whose editor knew him, says that he was one of nature's noblemen and a 24 carat diamond in the rough.

THE disgraceful death of his first born and other family bereavements will likely cause Gov. Brown to drop out of the Senatorial race. "Archie," as he called him, was his favorite child, but he has brought his gray hairs in sorrow, if not to the grave, the next thing to it.

THE New York bald heads will continue to enjoy the spectacle of pretty women in tights. The bill to prevent actresses and others appearing in them failed in the Legislature, though 55 old fogies cast their votes for it.

GOV. McCREADY has returned from Washington, where he went in the interest of his constituents. He had an interview with the president, who regards him as his representative in the Senatorial race.

NEWSY NOTES.

—Miss Rose Nelson, daughter of Prof. James Poyntz Nelson, was married at Lexington Tuesday noon, to James Murray Mason, of Virginia.

—Alex Winston, a farmer living near Maryville, O., was granted a divorce from his wife because she admitted that she loved a pet snake she owned better than she did him.

—Invitations to the marriage May 8th at Sonora, of Mr. John Andrew McRoberts to Miss Sophronia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rider, have been received by friends here.

—A beautiful young lady of this place informed an I. J. reporter the other day that she would, ere many moons wax and wane, become the wife of a traveling man who frequently "makes" Stanford.

—The widowed Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Mrs. Louis Hammersley, of New York, was married Wednesday in London, to Lord William Beresford. The bride is a relative of Dr. A. S. Price, of Stanford.

—The woman who gets so old that she don't want to be courted by her husband is so old that it is time for her to go home to her final reward. The man who gets so old and contrary that he won't court his wife a little occasionally ought to go out and hang himself. —Ex.

—Editor Harry M. McCarty, of the Jessamine Journal, and Miss Mary Alleen Young, were married at her home in Fayette county Tuesday. The bride is said to be very beautiful and lovable and we know that Harry is all that any woman could wish. May they never know a sorrow nor never have a care.

—At Springfield, O., Allen W. Harbaugh and Miss Mary Kizer were united in matrimony. After the ceremony the preacher asked the groom for the license and loan and behold he had forgotten to secure any. After procuring the necessary papers they were married again, thus giving Mr. and Mrs. Harbaugh the distinction of marrying twice in one day.

—C. W. Huntley, aged 84, of Bristol, O., who six weeks ago married Mrs. Peck, aged 42, in Cleveland, after a short acquaintance, is again alone in the world. The woman was a wife for revenue only and when she found out that the old man had fished about his fabulous wealth, she packed her trunk and left.

W. P. WALTON,

A $12,500 DOG.

The Recently Deceased Sir Bedivere Was the Highest Priced Dog in the World.

Sir Bedivere, whose death was recently reported, was undoubtedly the finest specimen of the rough coated St. Bernard ever sent into a show ring. He was 7 years old and measured 33 inches at the shoulder, while he weighed about 215 pounds.

In 1891, when 3 years old, he was sold to E. B. Sears of Melrose, Mass., for $12,500, which is about the highest price ever paid for a dog. Mr. Sears sold him to W. C. Reick of New York in

SIR BEDIVERE.

In 1893, when Mr. Reick disposed of his kennel, Sir Bedivere was sold to C. A. Pratt of Little Rock, the owner of the Argyle kennels.

Sir Bedivere's career on the bench, while it has frequently been stated that Sir Bedivere was never beaten in the show ring, this is an error, as on his very first appearance in the ring, when he was entered in the novice puppy class at Warwick, England, Prince Regent, who was afterward imported to this country and died here, defeated him.

Afterward when Mr. Reick owned him, his kennel companion, Princess Florence, was placed over him in a special class for the best rough coated dog in the show. This decision, however, was not endorsed by good judges, who considered Sir Bedivere the best dog of his breed ever shown.

FAMOUS DERELICT.

The Lumber Lad—Woolston at Last Given Up For Lost.

The hydrographic office has at last given up the Woolston for lost. On Sept. 25, 1891, she sailed from the Satilla river, Georgia, lumber laden, for Bath. She became waterlogged and was abandoned off the Virginia coast. Then she began to drift on the high seas—a fearful menace to navigation. She went to the center of the Atlantic and back, was seen 46 times by passing vessels, was boarded three times, set on fire with tar and paraffine in vain, and after covering 8,955 miles, counting by straight lines, was seen last in October—six months ago almost to a day. She was then sooty off toward Nova Scotia. No derelict ever drifted so long before. Three months is their average life. The Woolston is known to have fought the seas successfully alone for three years. She was famous wherever ships go, and now that the sea is rid of her sailors sleep better than they did before. A book is to be written on her "lonely journeys up and down the seas"—Chicago Times-Herald.

FROM SALOON TO SALON.

A Buffalo Liquor House to Be Turned Into a Joint Stock Temperance Affair.

The Gold Dollar saloon, the finest in Buffalo and one of the handsomest in the United States, will be converted into a temperance saloon and owned by a joint stock company composed of clergymen and prominent business men of Buffalo.

The proprietor of the Gold Dollar saloon will be secured to take charge of the temperance saloon. He is tired of selling liquor, has had a genuine change of heart and sees in this a good opportunity for getting away from present associations. The saloon floor is laid with $20 goldpieces, the bar is studded with $50 goldpieces, the walls are hung with fine pictures, and 1,200 incandescent lights furnish many beautiful kaleidoscopic effects.—Philadelphia Press.

Signaling at Sea.

The reported invention of an electrical device whereby the approach of vessels at sea will be signaled to them when they are as much as six miles apart is important if true, and there is no reason to doubt that such an invention may have been made, as inductive effects take place over very long distances. Such a device, if successful, would not only prevent collisions at sea, but would protect war vessels from surprise and give notice of the approach of submerged torpedoes.—Philadelphia Ledger.

For Berlin's Exposition.

For the Berlin exposition in 1896 a monster telescope is now being wrought. The four lenses measure each 110 centimeters (about 45 inches) in diameter, but the length of the instrument will be but 5/6 meters. The lenses, therefore, will be larger, but the telescope shorter than the Yerkes telescope.

Britain's Chance.

Nicaragua suggests arbitration with all the facile promptness of an old hand at diplomacy. It should not be forgotten, however, that it is in arbitration that England gets in its finest work.—Washington Star.

Their First Skirmish.

We are patiently waiting for the new woman to tackle the old servant girl question.—Washington Post.

The Sweetest Thought of All.

'Twas sweet to see her standing there Before that madly clam'rrous throng And know the darling of my heart Was crowned the queen of song.

'Twas sweet to hear the wild applause And see the flowers around her fall, And once again, with modest grace She bowed to one and all.

But sweeter far than all the rest There came to me the thought divine That, though the world her pathway strewed, The flowers that she held—were mine!

—Wallace Dunbar Vincent in Truth.

SILVER IN THE WEST.

People So Absorbed by the Question That Even Corpses Talk of It.

You may get an idea of the thoroughness with which the minds of the people out west are absorbed by the silver question from a story that Colonel Watterson is telling concerning the funeral of a distinguished advocate of the white metal that came off recently at Cripple Creek.

The whole town turned out to pay its respects to the memory of the deceased, whose demise was sincerely mourned. The good preacher felt it devolved on him to make a long and impressive service. He talked for an even hour and a half before the final amen.

STRUCK.—A dispatch from London says that the 600 coal miners employed by the companies composing the Laurel Coal Association, went out on a strike yesterday and will probably remain out all summer. They strike for the pay of last year—70 cents per ton. The operators offer only 55 cents.

THE weather has been such as to make vegetation hump itself and for the last week it has humped. The trees are in full foliage and the fields are clothed in verdure. In fact every prospect pleases and only man is vile. Yesterday was showery, with an occasional thunder cloud, and the same conditions are expected to-day.

THE Great Wallace three ringed circus will exhibit in Danville, Tuesday, May 14, when lovers of that popular amusement will be given a royal opportunity to enjoy themselves. In addition to the circus there is a full menagerie to give those an excuse for going, who object to the circus.

THE court of appeals has reversed Judge Toney's decision rendered in the Louisville law and equity court in the case of Mr. Arch Carson, of Crab Orchard, against the American Accident Co.

Stewart Carson, a son of the plaintiff, held a $5,000 policy in the above company and was shot and killed about two years ago while acting as deputy sheriff in Florida. The company refused to pay the policy on the grounds that Mr. Carson, who was a baker as well as deputy sheriff, gave his occupation only as a baker in his application for insurance.

The company also held that a person who was shot at and killed was not killed accidentally. Judge Toney decided that the policy should be paid.

LINCOLN county is in the middle of a very bad fix politically and the democratic leaders will have to do some harmonizing work if she is kept in line. To that end we have urged and still urge the precinct conventions that send delegates here to nominate a candidate for the Legislature to leave them uninstructed, taking care to send men only who are fully alive to the importance of democratic success over the claims of any or all aspirants. If such men from all over the county are sent, we are sure that after consulting and reasoning together they can name a man for the office who will go forth to certain victory. He may be either of the announced candidates or another, but the nomination should not be made till everything is considered and a harmonious result reached. Men are nothing. Democratic success is everything, especially since upon the election of a democratic Legislature so much of importance will devolve.

THE Danville Advocate pays our distinguished townsmen, Col. T. P. Hill, a highly merited compliment in referring to the effort to induce him to run for the Legislature, and nine-tenths of the people of Lincoln county endorse every word of it. The colonel would make a model candidate and a model representative, but we are sure that nothing would induce him at his time of life to give up the ease and comfort of a pleasant home to dabble in politics for which he has always had an aversion.

■ A COUPLE of lawyers from Hodgenville were here yesterday taking depositions before Examiner W. A. Tribble in the suit of J. J. Fox's administrator against the L. & N. Mr. Fox was a brakeman and met his death at Rowland, while coupling cars.

SHERMAN BRUCE, who was shot at Milleville a few days ago by Howard Deatherage, also colored, had not recovered sufficiently to be brought to trial Wednesday and it was postponed until 10 A. M. Saturday. His doctor thinks he will not be well enough to appear even then.

IF it weren't for Junction City and vicinity, the Boyle circuit court would have little to do. That end of the country gives the Lincoln court a great deal of work, too, but a few more verdicts like Hamner's and a neck or two stretched, will bring the law breakers there to their senses.

MISS RUTH ELLISON's school closes today and her pupils, about 30 in number, will be given a picnic in Mrs. Cath Bailey's woodland near town. At the examination yesterday the medal was awarded to Archie B. Elkin for general excellence and the following were named in the roll of honor: Arthusa McAlister, Bessie VanArdsall, Nan D. James, Ella M. Newland, Margaret James, George McAlister, Nan B. James, Foster McAlister, Robert Woods, Anna Darst, Nellie Mershon and Janie Dawson.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS.—John Hamner was convicted of the murder of Mack Moore and given 21 years at Danville Wednesday. The Commonwealth seems to have convinced the jury that the killing was for the purpose of robbery and that it occurred several hours before Hamner claimed that it did. Had a majority verdict prevailed the death sentence would have resulted, but as usual there was a man for a light sentence and he held out. If a new trial is refused, the Advocate says an appeal will be taken, but the prosecuting attorney, J. S. Owsley, Jr., tells us that unusually few exceptions were taken and that he thinks the condemned has no chance now before either court.

THE court of appeals has reversed Judge Toney's decision rendered in the Louisville law and equity court in the case of Mr. Arch Carson, of Crab Orchard, against the American Accident Co. Hill, a highly merited compliment in referring to the effort to induce him to run for the Legislature, and nine-tenths of the people of Lincoln county endorse every word of it. The colonel would make a model candidate and a model representative, but we are sure that nothing would induce him at his time of life to give up the ease and comfort of a pleasant home to dabble in politics for which he has always had an aversion.

NEW MAIL ROUTE.—Gov. McCreary succeeded in getting the new mail route established between Stanford, Salyer, Ewell, Highland and Pleasant Point to Kingsville and Postmaster J. W. Rout has posted notice for bids for carrying the mails over it to close May 10. Mr. Rout has the blank bids and bonds on hand and will furnish them to those desiring to bid. The schedule is to leave Stanford at 7:45 A. M. each day, except Sunday, arriving at Kingsville at 12:15, returning, leave Kingsville at 1:15 P. M. arriving here at 5:45 P. M. They will give us a sure connection with mails on the Cincinnati Southern.
